

Sourcing the Best Contractor!

When you are choosing a contractor for your home you don't just pick the first one that comes along and go with them. You choose one that buys into your dream and one that can do what you need the way you want. Exhibition Contractors are the same and its important you choose the right one. We have worked with many over the years and are happy to run you through a module on choosing the right one.

1. Deciding what look you want to achieve from your stand
2. Working out a budget for the stand
3. Picking the right company
4. Getting an all-in price
5. Knowing the questions to ask and the timeframes involved
