

Space Only or Shell Stand?!

If you have recently booked an exhibition you will no doubt be familiar with the expression and it essentially means that the Organiser will or wont provide you with an actual stand for the show. If you are taking space only – The organiser assumes you are bringing or building your own stand. If not, they will supply you with a rental stand called shell. The shell is a paid for option. Very often the cost of the rental can be close to the cost of buying your own stand so it's worth looking at buying if you will be doing more shows. Let us help you decide.

1. What choice should I make here
2. Should I be looking at buying not renting
3. Can I modify the rental one?
4. How suitable is the rental one for my needs?
5. Who are the companies who supply these?
